Strong County Ticket By the Democrats

Probably no political campaign, primary or otherwise, was ever conducted in Medina county before with so little enthusiasm, as the one which ended Monday night. Even the candidates themselves, at least those for county offices, have for the most part done but little electioneering other than by newspaper, letter and card. Even the newspapers have been rather dormant in discussing the campaign. However, a nomination is not an election and it is likely that there will be something doing between now and November.

The candidates on the various tickets for county office are well-known men, and almost any combination would have made acceptable public servants had they received the nomination and later had been elected but we have space only to deal with those names which were successful in the primary election and the total results in the county are herewith given; beginning with the state ticket:

IN WRONG THRU DECIMALS

In our editorial on the tax law last week under the caption "Reflect Upon This," the accidental misplacement of the point in some of the figures we gave made us in error. The figures were correct, but the point found its way into the wrong place. For instance, the types were made to read that the duplicate had been increased to 422,343.65, whereas it should have been 42,234,365.00. However, the figures and the pointing in the amount of increase were correct. The same error crept in in giving the duplicate for last year. The amount read $401,709.00, when it should have been $40,170,900.00. While it is probable that most of our readers recognized the misplacement of the decimal point, nevertheless, the Barnes law and its working have been so persistently knocked by its opponents that we wish to be placed on record in an exact way, thus the correction.

WANT INTER-COUNTY ROAD

For some time there has been a movement for an inter-county road through Liverpool township. Several months ago the matter was discussed considerable, but of late not much has been heard about it. However, the county commissioners have assured the people of Liverpool that they are entitled to such a road and that they will do all within their power to assist the trustees in securing it.

The trustees find that the population of the township is divided as regards the location of this road; some taxpayers want the Center-road (North and South), while others prefer the so-called Moshle-road (Lester to Valley City.)

A town meeting was called by the trustees last Friday evening to determine which road might be the choice of the majority. Many, however, did not learn of the meeting, so that less than eighty men were present, a proportion far too small to be representative of the township at large. No final action was taken except that it was decided by secret ballot to leave the selection of the road to the voters at the next regular election.

GOVERNOR JAMES M. COX

Council Met Tuesday Night

Council met in regular session Tuesday night and in spite of the fact that it was the night of the primary election when most fellows like to hang around, the whole council body was on hand ready for business.

After the bills had been paid a resolution was presented to authorize the renewal of two notes held against the village by the Medina County National Bank for $250 respectively. One was for the purchase of a chemical engine some time ago and the other was for the installing of a settling tank at the north disposal plant. The resolution was immediately passed.

Two communications from the manager of the Cleveland Southwestern were read by Clerk McNeal. The first gave the statement that the Clerk's first letter had been mislaid. Simultaneous with McNeal's second letter to the railroad management the latter's attention had been directed to an article in the Sentinel stating that McNeal had never received any reply. The latter's letter had been written with a view to prevailing upon the railroad company to fix up the pavement along side of their tracks on North Court street. The second letter from the company conveyed the information that they will be pleased to meet with the council any time that can be found convenient. The mayor appointed the entire council a committee to meet with the company's manager.

Councilman Bennett then offered a resolution authorizing the solicitor to prepare a resolution to extend the water pipe on Union street and on Huntington street from Union to North. The resolution was passed.

An ordinance covering in detail the question of water, gas and sewer extension, as asked for by the officers of the Pythian Sisters Home project, notice of which was published in the Sentinel last week, will be found in another column of this paper.

The question of widening Bishop street from North Court to Elmwood came up again Tuesday night. Most of the residents on Bishop street desire to have it widened. A few object. And the mayor appointed the council a committee to labor with the few and if possible persuade them to set aside their objections.

Operation Fatal to Doctor Wood

A great many Medina people will regret to learn of the death of Dr. W. I. Wood, a former resident of this place, later of Massillon and recently of Seville, which occurred at German Hospital, Cleveland following an operation for appendicitis. Dr. Wood located in Seville only a few months ago, coming from Massillon. His illness was of short duration.

The body was brought to Medina, where funeral services were held Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Rae Boswell, of 227 Grant street.

The deceased was born at Litchfield, O., March 11, 1858. Died in Cleveland, O., August 7, 1914. He was the son of W. H. Wood. His father died at Wellington, O., in 1872. His mother, Mrs. Julia Waad, died in Seville, on January 9, 1914.

Dr. Wood was married to Lavina Carretesca at Medina, December 1, 1880, she dying October 12, 1889. To them were born two children, Rae Boswell, of Medina, and Frank Leland of Massillon, both of whom survive him.

Only a short time ago he fitted up an office in Seville and again had entered upon the practice of his profession, but an attack of appendicitis, for which he was operated upon in the German Hospital, Cleveland, terminated a very useful career.

Besides his children, there survive his brothers, Chas. H. Wood of Chicago and sister, Mrs. C. W. McDowell of Seville.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday afternoon at the home of his daughter, with burial beside his wife in Spring Grove cemetery. Rev. F. L. Knapp of the Baptist church of Seville officiated at the house and the Masonic burial service was performed at the grave.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

Harry King, Joseph Mesnor and John Snyder, residence unknown, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Beck, in Wadsworth, charged with stealing $48 worth of clothing, consigned to a western firm. King and Snyder entered pleas of guilty, while Mesnor pleaded not guilty. In default of $300 bond all three were brought to the Medina jail by Marshal Lucas.

Chautauqua to Come Again

When the Edwin R. Weeks Co. finished their entertainment Tuesday night there closed Medina's first Chautauqua season. To say that the season has been a success, both artistically and financially, is only stating the facts. Artistically, the entertainments have been all that could be desired. The lectures were interesting and instructive and delivered by able and well-known men. Financially what was predicted by many would prove a deficit, instead season closed with a substantial profit.

As is well known the Medina Improvement Association was the promoter of the local Chautauqua. Had it not been for their unremitting efforts there would have been a deficit. It is no easy task to sell 750 season tickets at $2.00 each. If you think it is, try it some time. Nevertheless this energetic association turned the trick and should and of course does have the profound thanks of all those who were fortunate enough to attend the various attractions.

In our issue of last week we gave suitable mention of the daily programs up and including Thursday evening.

Friday morning Clarion D. Harvey gave his interpretation of the famous drama, "The Fourth Estate." This is one of three interpretations of drama that Prof. Hardy delivers, the other two being "The Certain Rich Man" and "The Servant in the House." The latter two were delivered respectively on Saturday and Monday mornings. Friday afternoon the Kickbush Reuter Co. gave a musical recital of high class. Following this was the lecture by Tahan on "Things I Saw and Did as a Savage." Tahan related experiences that were well calculated to make the hair stand on end and goose-pimples—ricochette up and down one's spinal column the same as happens to one when he hears the Star-spangled Banner and sees the national flag waving at the same time. Tahan is the real thing of his kind.

Friday evening the Kickbush-Reuter Co. gave another musical recital, followed by the Ben Greet players in Shakespeare's comedy "The Taming of the Shrew." This is one of the English bard's most delightful comedies and these celebrated players brought to the local Chautauqua an entertainment of great merit.

Saturday morning was the lecture by Prof. Hardy. In the afternoon the Oratorio Artists gave their concert. These singers rank among the best in their profession and their singing here maintained their high reputation. The singers were followed by a lecture by Clifford G. Roe, entitled "The New Moral Awakening." The lecture dealt with the white slave traffic and Mr. Roe is acknowledged one of the foremost workers in the movement to put an end to it. The evening session consisted of another entertainment by the Oratorio Artists.

Great expectation had been evinced for the entertainments of Sunday by Furullo and his band, and it must be said that this big musical aggregation fulfilled in every way all that was predicted for it. Furullo is an able leader and his men responded to his baton as a unit. The programs both afternoon and evening were carefully selected, heavy and light numbers alternating in such a manner as to suit all tastes. Furullo directed both concerts without score.

Monday morning Prof. Hardy delivered his third and last interpretation of drama, "The Servant in the House." The musical Novelty Entertainers divided attention in the afternoon with Dr. Harvey W. Wiley. The latter gave his famous lecture on "The Public Health Our Greatest National Asset." In the evening the Novelty Entertainers gave another entertainment, followed by the Floyd's in feats of mind-reading and legerdemain.

CAR KILLS BERE A MAN

William Guylopp, 40, of Berea, was run down and killed Friday evening by a northbound Cleveland & Southwestern interurban car when he attempted to cross the street. His body was thrown fifty feet, death, doctors say, being instantaneous. The car left Medina at 6:42 and was a limited.

School News by Prof. Leahy

Pursuant to a call from the State school commissioner, the 88 county superintendents of Ohio met in the House of Representatives, Columbus, to discuss the new school laws.

Mr. Miller, the superintendent of public instruction of the State, congratulated the county superintendents on their splendid opportunities for the improvement of the rural schools. There is much hard work to be done in order to accomplish the best results. Agriculture must be taught and domestic science encouraged. The aim of the law is to bring active, effective supervision to the rural schools as well as to the city schools. This should have been done long ago. The country has been neglected, the cities overcrowded. Back to the country with all of its natural charms. Let us learn how to make the best use of the soil, the source of all earthly wealth.

The country boys' creed: We came upon it first in Greenwood, Miss., Commonwealth. But no source was given. We traced it, however, to its publication in the Progressive Farmer of Memphis, Tenn. That is as far as we have got, although a query to that paper brings the information that very likely the "Creed" was first used by a boy's corn club in Virginia and was later adopted by all the boys' corn clubs in that state. It would give us real pleasure to learn where and how this expressive statement of an ideal crystallized into words. Perhaps by this time you are curious to read it for yourself:

"I believe that the country which God made is more beautiful than the city which man made; that the life out of doors and in touch with the earth is the natural life of man. I believe that work with nature is more inspiring than work with the most intricate machinery. I believe that the dignity of labor depends not on what you do, but how you do it; that opportunity comes to the boy on the farm as often as to a boy in the city; that life is larger and freer and happier on the farm than in the town; that life depends not upon location, but upon itself; not upon my dreams but upon what I actually do; not upon luck, but upon luck. I believe in working when you work, and in playing when you play, and in giving and demanding a square deal in every act of life."

"Iron sharpeneth iron." Who knows a more successful phrasing of the situation which the country needs thru all its length and breadth? Collier's Weekley.

The county board of education at its meeting last Saturday divided Medina County County into supervision districts as follows:

1. Northern, including Brunswick and Liverpool.
2. Central, including Medina, Montville, Lafayette and York.
3. Eastern, Granger, Sharon and Wadsworth.
4. Hinckley township.
5. LeRoy Village.
6. Lodi Village.
7. Medina Village.
8. Seville Village.
9. Southern, including Homer, Harrison, Westfield and Guilford.
10. Western Star, Litchfield, Chatham and Spencer.

The County Board of Education will hold their regular meetings in the office of the County Superintendent in the Griesinger block on the first Saturday of each month at 3 p. m., eastern time. G. W. LEAHY, County Superintendent.

THIS JERSEY SOME COW

Our esteemed friend, Mr. I. R. Boyer, is responsible for the assertion that he has a Jersey cow from which he has made $98.46 in one season. Here is the explanation:

Smearcase, 330 quarts, $47.17; 75½ gals. buttermilk, $11.25; 89 lbs. of butter, $28.04; one calf less than a week old which he sold for $12.00; total, $98.46. Besides all this the family which consists of three adults, have used all that was needed for food. Incidentally it may be stated that Mrs. Boyer has pitted and canned 120 quarts of cherries this season with the help only of her son.
